Unprecedented Growth in India's Cold Chain Sector

India's cold chain industry is witnessing remarkable growth, driven by rising demand for temperature-sensitive products across food, pharmaceuticals, and logistics sectors.

The Indian cold chain market was valued at INR 1585.1 Billion in 2021 and is projected to reach INR 3637.4 Billion by 2027, growing at a CAGR of 14.72% during 2022–2027.

This rapid expansion is fueled by increasing consumption of perishable goods, growth in organized retail, govt. initiatives, and advancements in cold storage and logistics infrastructure.

Growth drivers of Cold Chain Market in India

-  Organised food retail: Rise in consumption of temperature-sensitive goods leads to demand for cold chain storage and transportation.
-  Processed food sector: The establishment of several mega food parks by the government and high demand from consumers augurs well for the cold chain sector
-  Fruits & vegetables: Due to increased risks and investments in grain crops, farmers are moving towards the cultivation of fruits & vegetables, positively impacting the demand for the cold chain.
-  Pharmaceutical sector: The Indian pharmaceutical industry is the world's 3rd largest by volume and is expected to reach $65 billion by 2024, and ~$120–130 billion by 2030.
-  Healthcare sector: As the world's pharmaceutical factory, India's expected to witness double-digit growth in the coming years creating a high demand for temperature-sensitive cold logistics.
